Program:

Sejong University - one of the largest private universities in South Korea. Located in Seoul, the capital of South Korea. The history of the university dates back to the 40s of the 20th century, at that time it was called the Kyung Sung Institute. In 1978, the academy was renamed Sejong University in honor of Sejong the Great, the fourth king of the Chosun Dynasty, who was at the forefront of the alphabetical system of the Korean language.

There are 9 colleges at the university:

College of Free Arts, Social Sciences, Business Management, Hospitality and Tourism Management, Natural Sciences, Biological Sciences, Electronics and Information Engineering, Engineering, Arts and Physical Education, as well as the faculty of general education.

Since the beginning of the 2000s, the university has consistently occupied the leading lines in various ratings.

In 2007, the business faculty of the university received international accreditation from AACSB, along with Seoul National University.

In 2010 he was named the best university in Korea in the field of educational reform.

In 2014 and 2015 The university became the 4th best university in South Korea

The Tourism Management specialty at the University is the best in Korea, and also included in the TOP 30 specialties of the world

The campus of the university is located in the eastern part of Seoul, north of the Han River. It sprawls through the Seoul Children's Grand Park, it consists of 23 buildings, including the building of Sejong Elementary School and the Student Center. The campus of the university is the epitome of true Korean-style architecture.

Since the university is research, it pays great attention to the development of the material and technical base for increasing research. In 2002, the Astronomical Research Center of the University received the title of the best in Korea. The research of university professors is constantly published in international popular science journals, they are actively involved in scientific research in the field of astronomy, biotechnology, space, DNA, etc.

Since 1959, the Sejong Museum has been located on the campus of the university, which has collected artifacts from the university founders for research purposes. There are royal regalia, national clothes, ornaments, traditional Korean paintings written in ink, as well as clay products. The museum is actively involved in the excavation. Right in front of the entrance to the museum there is a small picturesque lake.
