5 facts about Australia, after which you want to study there

What associations do you have about Australia? Kangaroo, Sydney, Opera House, cartoon “Finding Nemo”? After reading this article, Australia will associate you with high-quality and affordable education.

Here are some facts about Australia that will make you pack your bags right now and go to study in this beautiful country.

Fact 1. Australia has a very high standard of living.

Australia is an economically developed country in which all conditions for a comfortable life are created. It is the 12th largest economy in the world and the 5th largest in the world in per capita GDP. Moreover, it takes second place in the world in the Human Development Index, which measures such indicators as living standards, literacy and education, as well as life expectancy. All this suggests that Australia has a very high standard of living.

Fact 2. The quality of education in Australia is one of the best in the world.

At the moment, there are 43 universities in Australia, and 7 of them are in the TOP 100 of the best universities in the world. Such specialties as clinical medicine, humanities, social, physical and natural sciences are among the top 50 in the world. Australian universities have released 15 Nobel laureates in areas such as medicine, literature, physics and chemistry. Australian diplomas are recognized around the world, and a flexible system of study allows you to choose a program individually for each student.

Fact 3. Studying in Australia is cheaper than in many other English-speaking countries.

Tuition in Australian universities is often cheaper by 25-30% than in the US, UK. The reason for this is, firstly, the lower rate of the Australian dollar against the pound sterling and the American dollar, and secondly, the active support of education by the state. Moreover, students over the age of 16 can work a maximum of 20 hours a week during their free time, which will partially cover their living and food expenses.

Fact 4. You can stay in Australia after completing the education and work.

Australia welcomes foreigners, and is happy to hire qualified professionals. After completing your bachelor's, master's or doctoral degree, you can get a Post-Study Work Visa (work visa after graduation) that allows you to stay in Australia and work up to 4 years, depending on the specialty and receive a salary not less than the Australians. This will give you the opportunity to return some of the money you have invested in education, to get an excellent work experience, and after 2 years of work you can apply for a residence permit in Australia and, if you wish, for citizenship.

Fact 5. Australia has some of the best student cities in the world.

Australia's population is highly urbanized, that means that a large percentage of the population lives in cities. At the same time, as many as 5 Australian cities are included in the top 30 student cities in the world in terms of availability of accommodation/food costs, relevance among students, and employment opportunities. Australian cities have a developed infrastructure, a high level of security, and a rich cultural life, since there are so many theaters, clubs, art galleries, etc. Moreover, most cities are located along the coastline, you have opportunities to enjoy active leisure, surfing, swim in a ship or boat, or just lie on the beach under the hot Australian sun.

By choosing Australia as your country of study, you will make the best investment of your future.
